

Canyoning Reflection
By Fiona Boutelle

The canyoning field trip was the best field trip ever!

The positives of the Canyoning field trip were that there were parts that you could find your own route in some places so if you wanted a challenge you could go on harder places.

The negatives were that some people in front of you were really slow and if it was red, you had to slow down and wait for them. I sort of fixed it by going more into the front.

I experienced that moss was really slippery because I slipped on some! I also experienced it was good to be on three or four points as it is much more stable.

I was really excited before the field trip and the trip turned out to be even better than I expected! This was the best field trip planned ever and I would do it again any time!
